Kennedy Klan to Gather Christmas

SUN VALLEY, Idaho (AP) — A good part of the Kennedy clan — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy D-N.Y., his family, Mrs. John F. Kennedy, her children, and Patricia Lawford, sister of the senator and the late president — are expected to spend the Christmas holidays skiing at Sun Valley, Idaho.

The senator's office confirmed Monday that he and his wife's family and Mrs. Kennedy and her two children, Caroline and John Jr., have reservations, but said the exact dates are not known.

In New York, it was disclosed that Jacqueline Kennedy appeared at a restaurant for lunch wearing a skirt that ended three inches above mid-knee.

Although the skirt was not quite mini, "it was the shortest we've seen her in," said Dick Atkins, an executive of Women's Wear Daily, a fashion trade publication.

as claimants.

"It will be up to the claimants to convince the court that they qualify," Judge Myers said. "I can't tell you what I shall rule — even what I shall accept as a definition of the word 'soul' — until after the hearing."

"If no one qualifies under the stipulations of the will, the estate will go to his heirs if there are any. The State of Arizona will receive the legacy if no heirs turn up."

Judge Myers set aside the 18 days on his calendar for the hearing after learning from claimants' lawyers the time needed for their presentations. He didn't discount table rapping or other performances by mediums.

One of the most persistent contenders for the money is the Phoenix University of Life Church, Inc., which said it conducts seances and communications "beyond the grave," according to the brief filed by its counsel.

Since the March hearing was announced by Judge Myers, his office has been flooded with letters, phone calls and telegrams from prospective claimants.

Very little is known about the man who left the eccentric will. The Arizona Tax Commission reported he was born in Ogdensburg, N.Y., and later worked for the copper company in a small Arizona mining town.

A stock broker who knew Kidd in the late 1920's described him in a court deposition as a "very exclusive, lonely sort of man who didn't drink or have many friends. Once in a while he would find a five-cent cigar and it would last him all day."

Since giving the sketchy description, the stock broker has died. He appears to have been the last link with the eccentric mine worker.

Kidd retired from his salaried job at the mine in 1948. He was last seen on a Phoenix street in 1950. Eight years later he was ruled legally dead. His body has never been found.

Now it has fallen to the county court to try to solve the problem of Kidd's will and who is qualified to investigate the soul of man.

All a Joke But He Made a Hit

NEW YORK (AP) — "Oh, by the way, we sail at midnight," said U.S. Ambassador to the United Nations Arthur J. Goldberg to his 250 special guests at shipboard party Monday night.

It was a joke, of course, but it made the host the hit of his own affair. The ambassador had invited 250 foreign ministers, heads of U.N. delegations and other notables to the SS Constitution for a champagne party. The liner was tied up at its berth.

Most of the tab was picked up by the American Export Lines, the ship's owners.

Among the guests were Nikolai T. Fedorenko, permanent representative of the Soviet Union to the United Nations; retired Gen. and Mrs. James A. Van Fleet; Jack Valenti, president of the Motion Picture Association of America, and his wife; and Theodore C. Sorensen, former aide to the late President John F. Kennedy.

UN Support for Boycott of Rhodesia

By TOM HOGE
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — African members of the United Nations sought support today to pressure the Security Council into slapping a total economic boycott on Rhodesia.

The African clamor rose as British Foreign Secretary George Brown arrived in New York to put a "soft" draft resolution before the council Thursday asking selective mandatory sanctions against the rebellious central African colony. The chief target would be Rhodesian exports.

British sources said Brown was empowered, if pressed, to include a limited embargo on export of oil to Rhodesia. But South Africa, Rhodesia's chief source of oil, has already said it would continue normal trade with its northern neighbor.

Prime Minister Harold Wilson's government turned to the Security Council after a last-ditch settlement was rejected Monday by the Rhodesian government.

The African bloc scheduled a meeting late today to map strategy for a new drive against the white minority government of Rhodesia Prime Minister Ian Smith. Smith's regime seized independence 13 months ago rather than agree to British demands for guarantees of eventual majority rule for Rhodesia's 4 million Africans. The colony has 225,000 whites.

Although extremists in the African group want to extend the proposed boycott to include South Africa, one African delegate expressed doubt the majority of the 15-nation council would approve this.

"Too many council members are carrying on trade with South Africa to go for any such proposal," he said.

The militants in the African group also seemed certain to increase pressure for use of British force to bring down Smith's regime, but this was also considered certain to be defeated.

The United States is expected to support Britain's position on Rhodesia with possible reservations. The issue has attracted such high-level interest, said U.S. administration sources in Washington, that specific instructions are being drafted for U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg.

The Washington sources indicated the United States would accept all economic sanctions the Security Council prescribed against Rhodesia, but would not go along if similar sanctions were requested against South Africa.

South African Prime Minister Balthazar J. Vorster warned Tuesday night that "no one's case will be served" by Britain's taking the dispute to the United Nations, "and it must be foreseen that it will probably create interminable bitterness and damage."

Vorster said it was still possible for Rhodesia and Britain to reach an agreement.

In Salisbury, the Rhodesian capital, Smith told newsmen he was ready for more talks with the British — "I never close the door to constructive negotiations with anybody."

But Smith said the deadlock would be difficult to resolve because Wilson has commitments to "irresponsible elements" and "extremists," a reference apparently to British Commonwealth members of the African-Asian bloc.

Hospital Grant for McCrory

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Department of Health, Education and Welfare approved a $268,337 grant for the Woodruff County Hospital and Nursing Home at McCrory, Ark.

Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., said the money will help finance a 26-bed general hospital and a 14-bed long-term care wing.

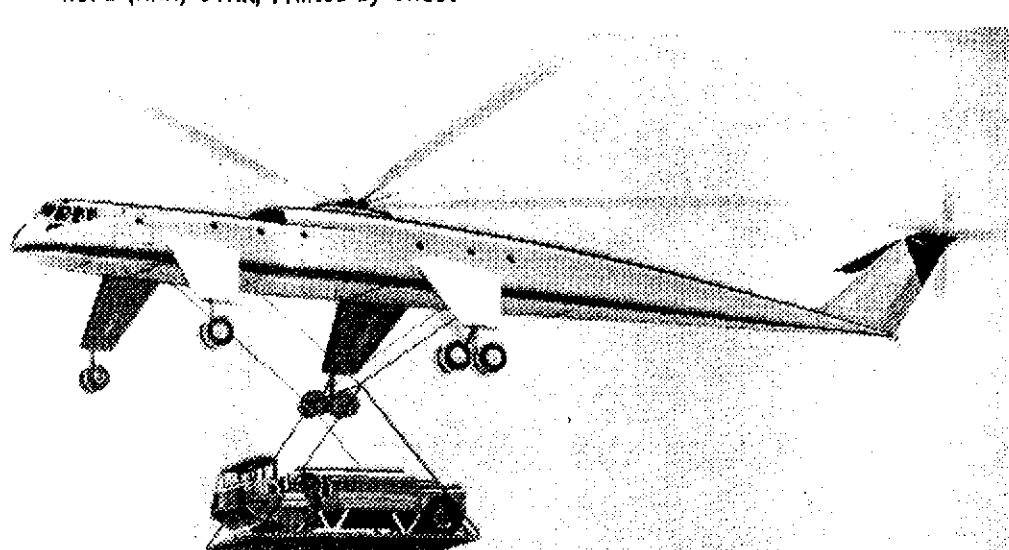

The Agriculture Department announced that the Rural Electrification Administration has approved a $425,000 loan to the Farmers Electric Co-operative Crop, at Newport, Ark.

The money will finance 33 miles of distribution line and also system improvements.

The Labor Department and HEW also announced approval of an institute training program at Fort Smith. The program will be conducted by the state Board of Vocational Education and the West Ark Junior College.

A BIG LIFT to helicopter service could be the result of this recent design by Lockheed. Able to transport a 20-ton payload—twice that of any U.S. helicopter now flying—the passenger-cargo craft could be in service in the early 1970s, with both military and civil applications. Operating range for the 104-foot long helicopter would be 1,000 miles with a 10-ton payload.

YOUTH ASKED FOR IT!

This column is for young people their problems and pleasures, their troubles and fun. As with the rest of Helen Help US!, it welcomes laughs but won't dodge a serious question with a brush-off.

Send your teenage questions to Helen Help US!, this newspaper.

THE MAN'S POINT OF VIEW

Dear Helen: In your reply to the "Spock-proof" husband, you took the woman's side, saying a gal only has a first baby once and let her enjoy being "all Spock and span."

If a MALE answered a question like that it would go something like this:

"Some women think having a baby is the biggest thing in the world and no other subject is worth talking about. They're smug, self-centered and glowing with pride. Yet after the baby is born the woman tosses all the responsibility on the poor husband. She ridicules him because he fathered the child, as if he was the only one involved. Later on, when the kid doesn't live up to expectations, who's to blame—the father, of course, because 'that's where he inherited all his bad points.'"

My dear, Helen, you should let ME write your column. I could tell you a thing or three about dames! — EXPERIENCED HUSBAND.

Dear Ex: Do tell I'll be waiting to hear. — H.

Dear Helen: My husband acts like a teenager and looks about 18, when he is really 25. He wears a dungaree jacket and loves to race cars and motorcycles and hang around with younger fellows. What's more, a magazine and she traces back people our ages treat him like a teenager. What will it take to curly, or a headache to "hose" make him grow up? — MOTHER OR WIFE?

Dear M or W: . . . Time. These boyish traits evidently didn't turn you off before the wedding. So don't expect a marriage license to turn a boy into a man them? — BURNED

MULTIPLE PROBLEM

Dear Helen: I am a woman of 28. I have seven wonderful children, but here is the kick in the pants: I have never been married though I am living with their father. Everyone here has considered us man and wife for eight years and we have a very good reputation, go to church, work in PTA and all of that.

The reason we have never said our vows is that my "husband" was married about 15 years ago, but just stayed with her a year. They never got a divorce, but she married a man in another state. That made it hard for my man, as he didn't want to expose her as a bigamist or whatever. So we just moved to this town and let people think we were married. We love each other very much.

We want to do what's right, but it would cost too much for a lawyer to get this straightened out. Every time we almost have the money saved up, I get pregnant again. Will I ever be — THE REAL MRS. X?

Dear Mrs. X: I'd say you are just about as married as two people can get but to protect yourselves and your family you should make it legal, even if you must borrow the money. A common-law marriage might be binding, but when your "husband" has another wife, she could turn up at any time and cause trouble. I hope a lawyer can solve your problems quietly. — H.

Dear Helen: Every time I get a real pain, my wife says it's "psychosomatic." She read all about psychosomatic illnesses in a magazine and she traces back people our ages treat him like a teenager. What will it take to curly, or a headache to "hose" make him grow up? — MOTHER OR WIFE?
boss picks on me. Can't people have a good honest sickness any more without some "psychosomatic" analysing? — BURNED
Tell your "psychosomatic" (now THERE's a word!) wife to analyze her own pains but let you suffer the old-fashioned way. Like I say, women read too much.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen Help You. She will also welcome your own amusing experiences. Address Helen Bottel in care of Hope Star, Copy-right, 1966, King Syndicate, Inc.

Tigers Beat Magnolia Team 74-37

By JAMES HAMILTON

Last night, the Yerger Tigers played their second game of the season against the Walker High Hornets of Magnolia, here in Harris Gymnasium. The Senior boys were victorious by a score of 74-37, but the Junior boys were not able to defeat their opponents, losing 47-43.

The Juniors started off the action against the Walker High Juniors. The Junior Tigers, with the help of Frank Prater, put on a good show managing to stay within a reasonable margin of the Hornets, but their efforts were all in vain as they were defeated 47-43.

Frank Prater played a tremendous game scoring 31 of the Tigers 43 points. Next was Lee Davis with 8 points followed by Euridell Smith with 2, and Tommy Bostic who also had 2 points.

Following the Junior Boys lost, the Tigers Senior Boys came out hot with revenge and wasted no time in getting on the scoreboard. The Tigers led at the end of the first quarter 18-8.

Throughout the second quarter, the Tigers defense held to the additions of only 4 points to their previous score, while they increased their lead to a 40-12 ending the half.

In the third quarter, the Hornets, fighting to overcome such an astonishing lead held by the Tigers, were continuously decreasing the lead but were not able to perform such a task. The Tigers continued to lead through the remaining of the half and were victorious as the final score was 74-37.

Leading the Tigers to victory were James Monk, who had 15 points, Sydney Ross with 14 points, Ernest Standokes with 10 points, and a host of other Tigers; all exhibiting their great maneuvers and abilities while on the floor as well as when off.

Stram Came Up With New Football Plays

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG Associated Press Sports Writer KANSAS CITY (AP) — Hank Stram, ingenious Kansas City coach, introduced the triple stack defense, play action pass, moving pocket and double tight end offense to pro football over the past five seasons.

All helped his club win the Western AFL crown this fall. All are used often by most other AFL clubs and some NFL teams. Each is designed to give the Chiefs a psychological edge by creating indecision in the minds of the opposition.

Stram long has been fascinated with tactics and strategy. He was a single wing tailback and T-formation quarterback at Lew Wallace High in Gary, Ind., and Purdue. His love for football goes back to his schoolboy days. Stram's father, a professional wrestler and later a tailor shop owner in Gary, wanted Hank to become a pro baseball player.

"My father used to bring me baseballs, bats and gloves, and I would trade them off for football equipment," Stram said.

In 12 years as a college offensive coach at four schools, Stram developed four top quarterbacks — Dale Samuels and Len Dawson of Purdue, George Izo of Notre Dame and Fran Curci of Miami, Fla.

Owner Lamar Hunt watched Stram's offense at an SMU workout in 1956 at Dallas and was impressed. He later sought him as his head coach.

Stram didn't hire a coach to handle the entire defense, as some clubs have done. He explains "If I'm going to be fired, it should be for something I did myself."

The triple stack defense led to a pass interception setting up the winning field goal in the six-quarter AFL title game his team won in 1962.

Pro quarterbacks had caught up with the normal 4-3 defense with even spacing. Stram used odd spacing between three line-men, placing his three outstanding linebackers directly behind them in tandem.

"From the stack we can play any or all of our basic defenses," Stram said.

Cage Giant Makes 56 for Bruins

By TED MEIER Associated Press Sports Writer Lew Alcindor of UCLA isn't the only sophomore in college basketball to make an impressive varsity debut. There's also Butch Beard at the University of Louisville.

Beard's debut Saturday night was overshadowed by Alcindor's 56 points as the top-ranked Bruins crushed Southern California 105-80. Beard got 27 as Louisville defeated Georgetown, Ky., 99-81.

Beard, 6-foot-3 and weighing 175 pounds, had the stage all to himself Tuesday night with UCLA and Alcindor awaiting the weekend invasion of the Duke Blue Devils. The soph from Hardinsburg, Ky., demonstrated his opening night performance was no fluke with another sparkling home court effort.

He tossed in 21 points to again top the Louisville scoring as the Cardinals, fourth-ranked Nationally to UCLA in The Associated Press poll, whipped Southwestern Louisiana 107-68.

Texas Western, the defending national champions and No. 2 in the AP poll, made it three in a row with an easy 81-30 conquest of East Texas State at El Paso. The Miners played without their star, Bobby Joe Hill, who was suspended indefinitely before the game for disciplinary reasons. Coach Don Haskins termed the suspension "temporary."

Wake Forest nipped Virginia Tech 78-75 and Minnesota edged Drake 71-68 in two home court overtime triumphs while on the road Dayton downed Miami of Ohio 80-71 and Princeton beat Villanova 48-37.

Abe Alkins' three-point play in the last 34 seconds gave Hofstra a 71-69 home court victory over Seton Hall. Tom Ringlemann came off the bench and scored three quick baskets to spark Syracuse over Cornell 99-87 in another home court triumph.

In other leading games, all home court victories, San Francisco beat Hardin Simmons 72-61, Southern Methodist edged Oklahoma City 81-78, Baylor downed Centenary 91-73, Auburn overcame Louisiana Tech 88-77, Davidson defeated Furman 84-71, George Washington whipped Richmond 78-68 and New Orleans Loyola rolled over Texas Christian 91-75.

On the road, St. Joseph's of Philadelphia edged Georgetown, D.C., 86-82 and Texas routed Louisiana State 114-78.

Hope Girls, Boys Post Victories

By LARRY DON WRIGHT

Hope Star Sports writer

The Hope Bobcats pushed back a stout Gurdon challenge last night chiefly on an outstanding defensive effort to down the G-Devis, 60-48, in Jones Field House.

The Ladycats pulled out their first victory of the season in the night's other game by turning back the Gurdon girls, 33-22.

Though the Cats led most of the game it was never by very much until the final quarter when they rose to as much as a 15-point advantage.

Once again the Bobcats were able to set their own speed and this of course was fast. However despite the rapid pace at which the game was being played, scoring began slowly.

The first quarter ended at a 7-7 deadlock. That's when the rate of scoring began to catch up with the rate of play.

The Cats combined their full court press and the fast break through the second quarter to take a 28-21 lead into the halftime intermission.

The second half was filled with intercepted passes, stolen balls, and in general outstanding defensive play by the Bobcats. The third quarter ended with the score 44-35.

High point for Hope was Danny Griffis who sacked for 18 points. He was followed by Larry East who had 16, Luther Shaw with 8, Stan Reyenga with 7, Jerry Evans with 6, and Dwight Gallows with 4.

The Ladycats led all the way in their match as they threw Gurdon for a loss, 33-22.

The Gurdon girls proved no match for the Ladies as they just couldn't keep control of the ball.

After one quarter the home team held only a 5-1 lead as the game got off of an extremely slow start. However, the Ladycats popped back in the next period to push through 13 points and take a lead of 18-9 into the dressing room at half.

The Hope girls simply managed to maintain their lead through the second half to salvage the victory.

Katherine Coleman led Hope in individual scoring with 15 points. Others scoring were Carol Anthony and Jo McKamie who both gunned for 9 points.

Pirates Pull Third Major Trade of Month

By JOE KROVISKY PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates have acquired pitcher Dennis Ribant from the New York Mets, pulling off their third major trade within a week in an all-out effort to fashion a pennant-winner in 1967.

Ribant, a right-hander who was the Mets' top pitcher with an 11-9 mark and 3.21 earned run average, and outfielder Gary Kolb came to Pittsburgh Tuesday in exchange for veteran pitcher Don Cardwell and outfielder Don Bosch. Cardwell was 6-6 in 32 games.

"Ribant is the man we wanted," said Pirate general manager Joe L. Brown. "He is one of the fine young pitchers in the league and we are tremendously pleased to get him. He is a good pitcher now and has a chance to be an outstanding one."

The Ribant trade complements two other exchanges which appear to have considerably strengthened Pittsburgh, which faltered at the end of the season and was eliminated in the last few days, finishing third behind pennant-winning Los Angeles and San Francisco.

Last week Brown got pitcher Juan Pizarro from the Chicago White Sox for cash and shortstop Maury Wills from Los Angeles for third baseman Bob Bailey and infielder Gene Michael.

But Brown, the man who engineered all three deals, isn't making any 1967 predictions. "I think it's hard to win in the winter," Brown said. "We had a fine year last year and we hope to have a better year in 1967."

their second defeat on a Tennessee road trip, having lost to East Tennessee Saturday. Arkansas State's next action will be a home game with East Tennessee at Jonesboro Dec. 12.

Ron Filipek led Tech with 26 points. Tech led 43-39 at halftime but pulled to a 59-43 lead early in the second half and had little trouble the rest of the way.

Mike Burk paced Arkansas State with 22 points.

Three AIC Cage Teams Unbeaten

Hendrix and Ouachita Baptist joined defending champion Southern State as the only unbeaten teams in the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference basketball race with victories Tuesday night.

Hendrix beat Arkansas Tech 86-81 and Ouachita clipped cross-town rival Henderson 66-63 to move into a first place tie with the Muleriders, who belted Arkansas A&M 85-66 Monday night. Each of the leaders has a 2-0 record.

Meanwhile, Arkansas College upset highly regarded Arkansas State Teachers 75-69, giving the Scots their first triumph over the Bears since 1961. In the other AIC game Tuesday Harding escaped the cellar with a 79-77 victory over winless Ozarks.

The only AIC game tonight matches A&M and the University of Mississippi at Oxford. Hendrix vaulted to an 18-point lead in the first half, escaped with a 41-36 halftime lead and then lost its lead in the last half before rallying to clip Tech.

Jim Clouette scored 24 points and Gene O'Daniel 23 for the Warriors. Paul Baker had 18 for the Wonder Boys and Don Gross and Paul Brown added 17 each.

Barry, Leading NBA Scorer, Drills in 47

By HAL BOCK Associated Press Sports Writer NEW YORK (AP) — The rim on one of the baskets at Madison Square Garden is higher than it is on the other one.

The authority for that statement is San Francisco's hot-shooting Rick Barry and the way he was popping baskets through both hoops Tuesday night, he ought to know.

Barry, the National Basketball Association's leading scorer, drilled 47 points home, leading San Francisco to a 126-116 victory over the New York Knickerbockers in the second game of an NBA doubleheader.

In the opener, Boston finally snapped its Detroit hex, ripping the Pistons 130-111 and breaking a three-game losing streak against them. In the only other NBA game played, Philadelphia defeated Chicago 129-119.

Barry scored 22 points in the first half, 20 of them on field goals, as the Warriors raced to 71-55 lead. He made only four field goals in the second half, mostly because of repeated fouling by New York and those different rims.

"The baskets were shooting at in the first half had a higher rim and I was arching my shots to score," Barry said. "After we changed in the second half, I didn't compensate for the other basket, which has a lower rim."

"I was getting my position and my shots and there were times when I was sure my shots were going in but they'd just rim the basket and fall away."

Barry spent most of the third period at the foul line, sinking 14 of 15 attempts, a Madison Square Garden record.

Bill Russell played all but five minutes of Boston's first game victory over Detroit. It ended a three-game drought for the Celtics against the Pistons and Russell pointed to Sam Jones as the man who made the difference.

Jones, nursing a sore left hand, came off the bench and scored 23 points for Boston.

Notre Dame Proud, Happy Over Title

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer
SOUTH BEND, Ind., (AP) — Notre Dame is proud and happy to be crowned national football champion, but that was not the start, said Coach Parseghian of Notre Dame. I am particularly proud of best team I ever coached. I will cherish always the tremendous finish of a terrific injury handicap, said the 43-year-old Parseghian in the shining hour of a 16-season career as a head coach.

Not only his third Notre Dame title, Parseghian has proved the first Irish national champion since Frank Leahy directed a 1949 club to a No. 1 finish in the AP's poll with a perfect 10-0 record.

This year, Parseghian's superb blend of brilliant sophomores and bristling seniors won games, muscling six shutouts—most by the Irish in 34 seasons—and played a classic 10 tie with Big Ten champion Michigan State.

That matched the last undefeated, but once-tied Irish campaign 13 years ago, a 9-0-1 record by Leahy's swan song team of 1953 which played a memorable 14-14 tie with Iowa.

The deadlock with Iowa was most controversial, for entirely different reasons, as the Michigan State standoff of a decade Nov. 19 at East Lansing, Mich.

Awake partisans contended the Irish feigned injury tactics, as each half neared an end, stopped the clock permitting last-second Irish touchdowns for the 14-14 tie.

For Parseghian at East Lansing, Mich., before a national television audience, one of college football's most tense, hard-fought games ended with widespread criticism because the Irish ran out the clock in the closing 90 seconds with six straight ground plays near midfield.

Parseghian, even though elated over capturing the national title, has flared back at critics who contended the Irish should have gone down firing the long ball in an effort for victory over Michigan State.

"Let's review the situation for those people clamoring for a big Notre Dame gamble," said Parseghian, now owning a remarkable three-season Irish record of 25-3-2, mainly with inherited personnel.

"Much was made of Michigan State's fourth down gamble with six inches to go which succeeded on State's 30 in what proved their last series of the game.

"But what about our gamble, with fourth and one on our 39, on the third from last play of the game? Those many critics don't even mention that the two-yard sneak for first down by Coley O'Brien, all 173 pounds of this great little replacement for injured Terry Hanratty, might have been the biggest gamble of our season.

"If Michigan State takes over, possibly within our 40, they can shoot at least for a field goal by their great kicker, Dick Kenney. Then the bowl against us would be even louder than what we did on the last two plays, a pass-run option by O'Brien which lost seven yards and a five-yard sneak by O'Brien from our own 34.

"This is very much a game of percentages, and a 66-yard desperation pass on the last play of such a terrific game is a foolish gamble when you are risking a superb comeback from a 10-0 deficit under adverse conditions."

Fighters to Make With Loud Talk

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — "You'll never hit me," Cassius Clay told Ernie Terrell.

"I'm gonna agree with you," retorted Terrell. "You'll never know what hit you."

"You're a handsome man," added Terrell. "You want to know what you're gonna look like after I get through with you? You know what medium rare steak looks like?"

"Don't talk like that," replied Clay. "Talking is my line. You're the WBA champion. That's your line."

This is a sample of what you're going to hear from now until Feb. 6 when Clay, recognized as heavyweight champion in most parts of the world, and Terrell, the World Boxing Association's champion from Chicago, battle it out for the undisputed championship at the Houston Astrodome.

The undefeated, 24-year-old, 6-foot-3 Clay of Louisville, Ky., and the 27-year-old, 6-foot-6 Terrell signed contracts for the long awaited 15-rounder at a news conference in a ballroom of the Hotel Americana Tuesday.

Charles King, commissioner of boxing for Texas, attended to approve the contracts.

When the contracts were signed, Terrell signed and said: "This is what I've been waiting for. This is going to be a real pleasure. I never had a desire to beat someone like I want to beat him, and I'm going to do it."

"I know I'm going to knock him out, and he knows it too. And the beauty of it is that I'm going to get paid for it. I'm going to prove once and for all he's nothing with a capital N."

"I'm tired of hearing everyone talking about you being the WBA champion," said Clay, who prefers to be called Muhammad Ali and is billed that way now. "I'm the champion of everything. I'm going to whip you good."

"I'm tired of hearing the one-armed bandit calling himself champion. I wanted to take a good rest after making six title defenses within a year, but I got to get rid of him. After I beat him I'll give him 24 hours to get out of town."

Clay figures to gross more than a million dollars and Terrell in the neighborhood of $250,000 for 60 minutes or less in the ring Feb. 6.

The fight will be promoted by Astrodome Championship Enterprises, Inc. (ACE), a new setup headed by Judge Roy Hofheinz who runs the Astrodome.

The huge, beautiful indoor arena, site of the Clay-Cleveland Williams title fight Nov. 14, will be sealed to seat 60,000 and gross $800,000 at prices ranging from $5 to $100.

It will be shown on closed circuit television in theaters and arenas and will be beamed to England by Early Bird Satellite.

Brewer and Baird Aim at the PGA

PALM BEACH GARDENS, Fla. (AP)—Defending champions Gay Brewer and Butch Baird take aim at the $275,000 PGA national team championships today, delighted that Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus are on the same rival team.

The tournament purse is the richest in golf history.

The Nicklaus-Palmer pairing in the best-ball tournament "just eliminates another good team," said Brewer, who is enjoying his best year as a pro with $76,000 in official winnings.

"I hope Palmer and Nicklaus play to gether every year," said Brewer, referring to the potential of either if paired with another pro.

Brewer said he and Baird "have our confidence" in being able to repeat their record 29-under-par 259 victory in the 1965 inaugural.

Brewer and Baird teed off at 8:57 a.m., EST, with the brother team of Jay and Lionel Hebert as companions again. The Heberts were runners-up last year, three strokes off the pace.

In addition to the Palmer-Nicklaus team, Sam Snead and Gardner Dickinson, third last year, are paired again.

Other repeaters: Johnny Potts and Mason Rudolph, Don January and Paul Harney, brothers Jacky and Buster Cupti, Al Bessellink and Doug Sanders, Tommy Bolt and Tom Weiskopf.

The wind-up of the 72-hole match is to be televised nationally Saturday (Sports Network, Inc.).

A total of 120 two-man teams will tee off on the PGA's two courses, both par 72. The east course is 6,896 yards and the west is 6,418.

Buffalo, N.Y. (AP)—Buffalo halfback Bobby Burnett, a rookie from Arkansas, was reported in good condition Monday after he was knocked unconscious in the Bills' American Football League game at Boston Sunday.

Burnett underwent neurological tests, but a Bills physician said he was feeling much better. He was carried from the field on a stretcher and complained of severe headaches during the team's flight home.

Buffalo officials said Burnett is expected to return to practice Thursday.

Houston end, captured the scoring championship among major-college football players in 1966 with a 16-point performance last Saturday that lifted his final total to 113.

Hebert's two touchdowns and four extra points against Utah enabled him to overtake Jim Bohl of New Mexico State, statistics compiled by the NCAA Service Bureau showed today.

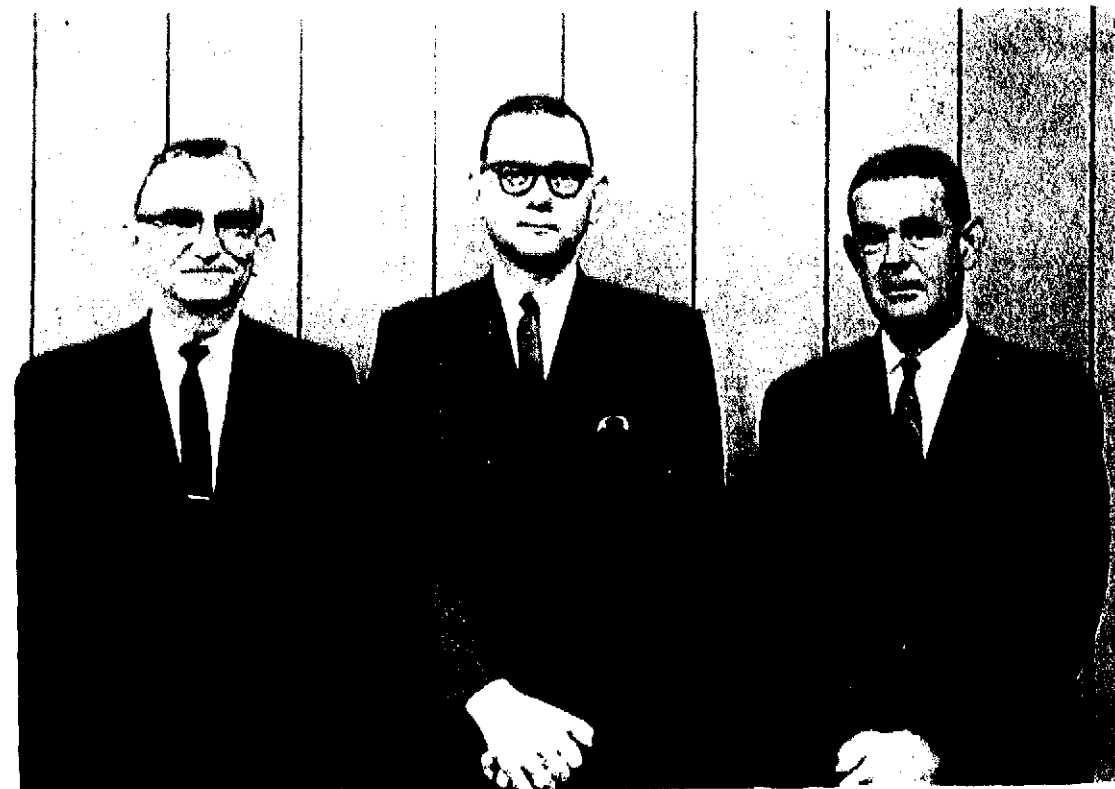

Bohl finished second with 98 points, followed by Leeland Jones of Buffalo with 96 and Floyd Little, Syracuse, 92.

Ray McDonald, of Idaho, won the rushing title with a total gain of 1,329 yards in 259 carries. The runner-up was Don Fitzgerald of Kent State with 1,245 yards.

Frank Quayle of Virginia was the leader in all-purpose running which included rushing, receiving, punt returns and kickoff returns. He gained 1,616 yards—727 rushing, 420 receiving 30 returning punts and 439 returning kickoffs.

Ex-Porker Halfback Recovering

That was the comment of Jack Christiansen of the San Francisco 49ers to Ken Hartnett Associated Press Sports Writer, after Starr led the Packers to a 20-7 victory over the 49ers Sunday.

"Bart probably is the best quarterback in football today," said Christiansen, "and before he gets through — which I hope is soon — he may be recognized as the greatest of them all."

Vince Lombardi also paid his compliments to his star quarterback.

"The game is right with Starr," said the Packer coach. "He played a tremendous game. There is no other story."

Starr completed 13 of 24 passes for 236 yards, including an 83-yard touchdown toss to Carroll Dale on the third play of the game. "Lucky," said Starr.

Training for Records Kept by Homemakers

Homemakers that keep farm records or homemakers wanting to develop a system of record keeping should take note of special training offered Friday, December 9, beginning at 1:30 p.m., at the Hope Chamber of Commerce.

According to Dolores McBride, Extension Home Economist, a farm management specialist will be at the Chamber of Commerce to conduct this 1½ hours of training. Extension Specialist, Ed Harms, will discuss fundamentals of keeping farm records and provide suggestions helpful to anyone desiring to improve present system of record keeping.

Homemakers will have opportunity for questions.

Record books will be available free to homemakers attending. There is no cost for the training.

Miss McBride says the training should help homemakers do better management analysis and provide a record system that speeds up income tax and social security filing.

Homemakers needing information are encouraged to attend and begin 1967 with improved system of keeping records.

Work of GI Jill Rated Important

By JEAN HELLER
SCARSDALE, N.Y. (AP) — A soldier's name for his girl was Jill. And because they were enlisted men, and wanted to discourage the brass from claiming her, they declared her Government issue and christened her "GI Jill."

"Hi ya fellas. This is GI Jill. Of the jivin' Jills. The jukebox of the jivin' Jills. These are the records that were the most requested on your local station record shows back home, the records you have in your own library. So gather a bit closer."

For seven years — 1943-1950 — GI Jill used her seven-day-a-week radio show to help make life more pleasant for American servicemen around the world.

Today GI Jill, whose real name is Marty Werner, lives in Scarsdale, N.Y., the wife of Mort Werner, a vice president of the National Broadcasting Co. and the mother of a 19-year-old daughter she has lovingly named Jill.

She remembers her GI Jill work as "the most important thing I've ever done in my life."

In the moments she can spare from her duties as a housewife, she is writing a screenplay about Jill's life.

Jill often had company when she did her shows. Bob Hope, Bing Crosby, Tommy Dorsey and Frank Sinatra dropped by as often as they could.

Mrs. Werner keeps a small wooden box in the bedroom of her house. It contains a few trinkets that have survived since her radio days.

There is a bracelet made of the broken window of a downed airplane, and another of an almost weightless metal alloy used in airplanes. There is a heart-shaped pendant inscribed roughly, "To Jill from Lou, 1944," and another, "New Guinea to Jill."

Mrs. Werner said that "Jill" tried to answer all the letters and send thanks for all the trinkets she got. When the guys took time enough to write, they deserved an answer.

"But then some of the letters would come back with a big stamp, 'Deceased.' You get those and it really hurts."

That the President of the United States should be plagued with hoarseness is not surprising, as this is common among orators, singers, preachers and all who must speak or sing a lot in public. Since there are several causes, anyone whose hoarseness does not clear up in two weeks should have a careful examination of his vocal cords. In a recent study of 1,000 cases of hoarseness the most frequent cause was polyps, a small grapelike growth attached to one or both of the cords. This was the diagnosis made in the case of President Johnson. Persons with these polyps are usually past 40 and heavy smokers. Their hoarseness usually grows worse as the day goes on. Drinking alcohol also makes it worse. The lesions are benign and if, when they have just started, the voice is rested and the use of alcohol and tobacco is discontinued, they may disappear spontaneously. When they become chronic, surgical removal is the only effective treatment. The second most common cause is cancer of the larynx. That is why all persons with persistent hoarseness should be examined by a throat specialist. Early diagnosis and prompt treatment by surgery or X ray before the disease spreads to other parts of the body is the only way this disease can be cured. Chronic laryngitis is the third most common cause of hoarseness and is caused by shouting, postnasal drip, smoking and exposure to dust-laden or highly polluted atmosphere. Removal of these causes is the only treatment that produces satisfactory results. Ceremonial blessing of all animals takes place on the feast day of St. Francis of Assisi, gentle friend of all animals and people.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

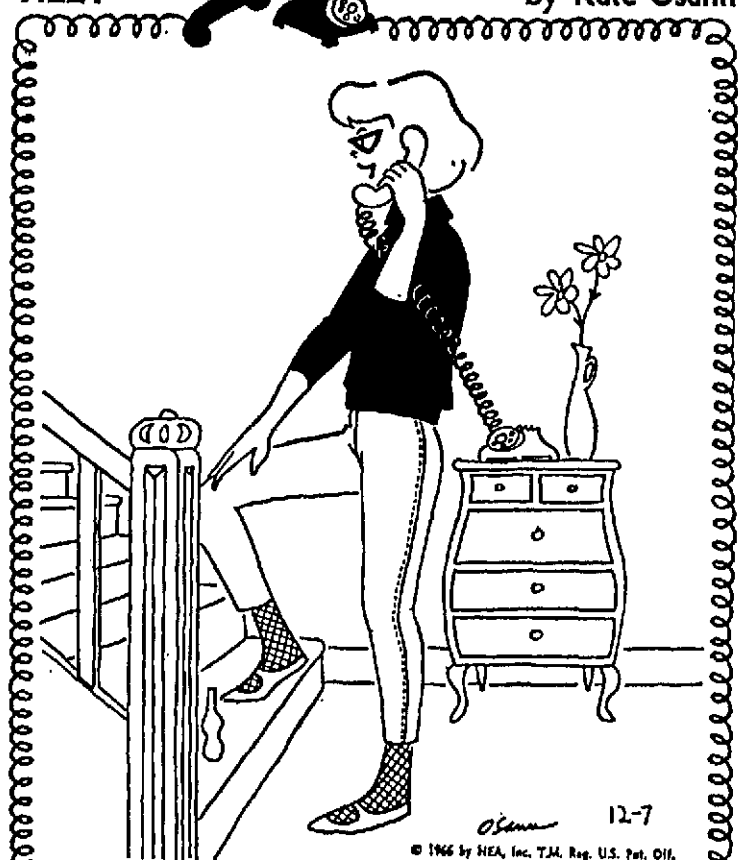

Certainly to Civil War enthusiasts, the Mason-Dixon line is the best-known boundary in the United States. The line was named after Charles Mason and Jeremiah Dixon, both mathematicians, who came from England in 1763 to help settle a long-standing boundary dispute between Pennsylvania, Delaware and Maryland. So accurate was the line they drew, according to The World Almanac, that a resurvey in 1963 proved the original markers to be amazingly exact.

Oswald: "If Al Morehead had any weakness at the bridge table it was that occasionally he made a simple hand look difficult. On the other hand, he was in a class by himself at making a difficult hand look simple."

Jim: "Here is a hand from 'Morehead on Bidding' which shows how to make a difficult hand look easy. Al reports that when South played the hand he cashed two trumps. Then he led out the ace and king of hearts only to have East ruff in and beat him."

Oswald: "Al explained that about half the experts shown this hand went down just as the actual declarer had. I must point out that Al solved the problem of making the grand slam in about three seconds."

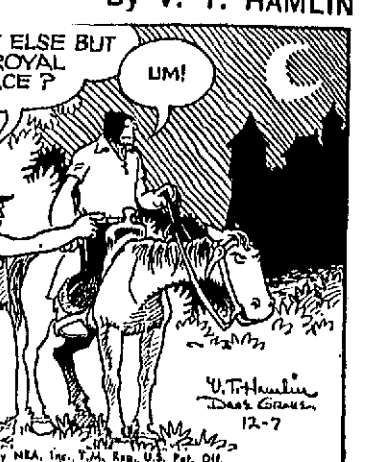

Jim: "Here is his explanation: 'The proper play is quite obvious when you stop to consider it. You should not try to guard against a 5-0 heart split but you should guard against a 4-1 split in that suit combined with a 3-1 trump break. At trick two, cash your queen of trumps. Then you cash the ace of hearts, enter dummy with the ace of clubs, ruff a heart with your jack of trumps and enter dummy with the king of trumps. This is the third trump lead and pulls East's last trump. Then you ruff another low heart with your last trump, cash your ace of diamonds and claim the balance in dummy with a trump and three good hearts.'"

Oswald: "Obvious to Al. He was perhaps the greatest analyst of all time."

Jim: "Morehead points out in his analysis of the bidding that South really should have bid five no-trump, the grand slam force, to ask his partner to bid the grand slam if he held both ace and king of spades. This would have been more elegant and better bidding but would not have changed the final contract."

Changes From Jap Attack Are Fantastic

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — Twenty-five years ago Wednesday was a gray day, cold, even in Louisiana. I was fishing in Salt Bayou, 30 miles from New Orleans, with a man who had taught English in some of the best schools in the East. He had an elegant touch, even toward fish. But we didn't catch any.

And when the sun began to dissolve behind the trees we went across the bayou, into the channel with the tall grass, keeping the outboard motor low. We pulled up at the wharf near Big Sam's boathouse. The little man who worked for him came skipping and hopping down to see us.

"This place is loaded with crappies," he said. "You ought to try them." We did. He kept telling us where they were: here, there, there. But we didn't get any. We were shaking in the cold. The sun was gone. We packed up and went up to the boathouse.

Big Sam was there, behind the counter where he sold soft drinks and sandwiches. But he hardly said hello to us. He was looking up at a radio on a shelf on the wall, and listening. There were two strangers there, too, looking up and listening.

And the voice on the radio was saying the Japanese had sunk the battleship Arizona. We'd come in late on a program. I asked Sam what the program was. He said there was no program. He said the Japanese had attacked Pearl Harbor. I asked him if he was kidding. He said: "No, just listen." The voice was saying more.

I looked at the little man who had been jumping up and down about the crappies. I asked him: "Did you know about the Japanese when you came down to the dock?" He said: "Yes." I said: "Why didn't you tell us?" He said: "I never thought about it."

The English teacher and I listened a few minutes more. We walked out into the dark cold. Then, and I don't know why, we suddenly shook hands as if we were saying goodbye to each other or to something. And one of us said: "This is where to go and they did."

And, while the little man who liked crappies forgot about Pearl Harbor, practically nobody else has, ever since, or could.

There were a lot of changes. For, while trying to blow up Pearl Harbor was just a part of World War II, what really blew up was the roof of a world which then became a mixed bag of blessings and dismay for the next quarter of a century.

Until the big war, for most people the world had been a lifelong journey through a dismal swamp where, except for Japan, almost every country in Asia and Africa was centuries behind the times, held in outright thralldom by the big powers of the West, or under the Western thumb.

The war brought changes as fantastic as the age of exploration. Everywhere new nations were born with a chance for the first time to achieve their own ecstasy or agony.

Has man learned much from World War II? Not much, basically. In many ways he has only rearranged the furniture.

Japan was denuded of its acquisitions, forced back into its home islands. The vast Germany of Hitler was split in half. But the allies split in half, too. The Soviet Union is now the an-

MRS. FRANCES REYNERSON AND MRS. SALLIE ANDREWS PRESENTING UNITED FUND CONTRIBUTIONS TO THE DRIVE CO-CHAIRMAN, ROY ANDERSON AND DORSEY STRINGFELLOW.

City of Hope employees have been added to the 100 per cent list of United Fund contributors when they turned in an excess of $800.00 Tuesday. Co-chairman Roy Anderson and Dorsey Stringfellow expressed their appreciation to Mrs. Frances Reynerson and Mrs. Sallie Andrews for their work in bringing this about. "This brings our total for the drive to about 36 per cent," said Mr. Stringfellow, "and we feel that quite a lot more will be coming in within the next few days."

As an extra push, the drive chairmen have arranged to have the local Boy Scouts stationed at the First National Bank and The Citizens National Bank on Friday December 9th to solicit pledges from those local citizens who have not contributed or made a pledge. On Saturday the Scouts will be stationed at 2nd and Main Streets, Kroger Grocery, A & P, Food Store and Safeway to accept contributions and pledges.

"The money pledged or paid at this time will not be used until the year 1967," said Mr. Anderson, "and it is deductible from your income tax in the year paid." With only 36 per cent of the goal turned in at this time it is hoped that those who have not made a pledge or contributed will do so within the next few days. "This goal is not too high for a town the size of Hope," said Mr. Anderson, "and we feel that Hope has this much public spirit and that we will all want to help and GIVE THE UNITED WAY."

tagonist of the West. And Japan and West Germany, more prosperous now than in all their history, are the friends and protégés of the United States.

Through the bankruptcy of power that the war brought, many people and nations acknowledged grudgingly the rights of others to freedom, justice and dignity only in turn to see the newly freed turn cannibals on themselves and the rights of neighbors.

Millions of men, illiterate and hungry, still trudge the dismal swamp of existence. Nations get tangled, as before, in stupidity and cupidity. The biggest powers live behind a burglar alarm system of radar screens and missiles.

And there is no one alive able to predict whether man suffered enough or learned enough from World War II to avoid World War III.

IF IT'S TRUE that blondes can have more fun, the exciting Dorothy Provine may be the exception. Dorothy says she's bored with life in Hollywood and is considering moving, her charm and talent to Europe.

3rd Stilwell Goes to War in SE Asia

By JOHN NANCE
DAU TIENG, South Viet Nam (AP) — His grandfather was "Vinegar Joe," his father was a famous general, too, and for Capt. Joe Stilwell III it's like being "in a goldfish bowl."

Fame of his forefathers has put the 27-year-old officer on the spot. He's the third Stilwell to go to war in Southeast Asia.

"Pressure?" he said. "Yeah. 'Do something right and everybody says, 'Of course, look at his family.' But do something wrong and listen to them howl: 'Hey, lookit what Stilwell did now!'"

He is the air operations officer with the 1st Battalion, 18th Infantry, 1st Infantry Division. It's a job with responsibility, but Stilwell wants command of a rifle company.

"I'm hoping to get a company in the next couple of months," he said during an operation in the jungles near the Cambodian border.

His helmet was cocked to one side as a bulbous earphone pressed against one ear. His eyeglasses slipped down his nose.

The battalion was establishing an encampment in a clearing deep in War Zone C, about 80 miles northwest of Saigon. Helicopters swirled in with ammunition, equipment and supplies.

Stilwell, with a slight beard on his jutting chin, barked into a field phone. There might have been a resemblance there to "Vinegar Joe," the caustic Gen. Stilwell of World War II who won fame in Burma against the Japanese and with airlifts into China.

The 1st Infantry troops were in pursuit of a Viet Cong force that made War Zone C its home, headquarters and long-time sanctuary.

Jets frequently swooped across the tree tops unleashing napalm and bombs. GIs were moving through the jungles and the air strikes had to be closely controlled. Stilwell spent hours on the phones, coordinating with air observers, brigade headquarters and troops in the field.

During quiet moments, Stilwell with earphones still clamped over his head, sat on a sandbag and worked on a crossword puzzle.

"It's interesting here," he said. "But I'd rather be on the line somewhere. That's the place to be."

He arrived in Viet Nam last summer but was soon called back to the United States when his father, Brig. Gen. Joseph Stilwell II, was lost in a DC3 that crashed in the Pacific between San Francisco and Honolulu. The father was commander of the Special Forces Training Center at Ft. Bragg, N.C., at the time.

Joe III spent two months at home with his mother and sister, then returned to Viet Nam in late September to pick up his assignment.

Chinese Warn Macao Authorities
TOKYO (AP) — Communist China warned authorities in the Portuguese colony of Macao today that they will be held responsible for any consequences arising from pro-Communist riots there over the weekend.

Seven persons were reported killed and hundreds injured in clashes between Chinese demonstrators and territorial police in the six-square-mile Portuguese enclave 65 miles south of Canton.

Indians make up more than 50 per cent of Bolivia's population.

Police Chief Wants to Be Replaced

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — "I would strongly advise replacing me with a man," says the woman who may be the only one in the country to serve as executive head of a police organization.

Mary Freeman Ross, executive director of the Buckeye State Sheriffs Association, who is stepping down from her post next year after 33 years with the organization, said, "I don't think a man's organization should be headed by a woman."

Mrs. Ross, one of the best known lobbyists in the state legislature, said she joined the organization "at the request of my father to help out a friend. Somehow, I just never left."

ALC Approves Top Highway Pay Raises

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Legislative Council argued for three hours Tuesday and then decided to raise salaries of about 110 top-echelon positions in the state Highway Department.

The increases ranged from $200 a year to $2,900 a year, the largest amount going to the chief engineer, lifting his salary to $17,900 annually.

The council also decided to raise the highway director's salary from $18,000 to $20,000 annually.

The council worked through the first 28 salary categories in the department and then turned the other 306 over to a three-man committee.

The committee is to confer with the department on these salaries next week and report back to the council.

The council also voted to raise maximum hourly wages from $1.35 to $1.60 in 1967-68 and $1.70 in 1968-69 for unskilled workers, from $1.75 to $2 to $2.25 for intermediate workers and from $2.30 to $2.60 to $2.90 for skilled workers.

Investigators Are Threatened

MANILA (AP) — Members of a congressional inquiry into the student demonstration outside President Johnson's hotel during the Manila summit meeting in October have received death threats, the Manila Times reported today.

The paper said anonymous letters were sent to the congressmen, including Carmelo Z. Barbero, chairman of the House Defense Committee.

The inquiry, which ended last week, investigated allegations of police brutality during the demonstration. One student was wounded by a shot and seven were badly hurt.

Japan Again Established as a Power

TOKYO (AP) — A quarter of a century after Pearl Harbor, Japan is again established as a giant among Asian nations. It wants to be a friendly giant.

Relations with its neighbors range from uncomfortable to cordial. They are steadily improving, with World War II fading into the past.

Yet memories of the war and earlier occupations linger in some places. And there is some fear of economic domination by resurgent Japanese industry.

Japan itself is still emerging from the psychological shock of defeat.

It is promoting trade, but underplaying politics. Some critics have speculated Tokyo is peacefully trying to establish the "greater East Asia coprosperity sphere" that Japan failed to impose by force.

Japan is now offering economic and technical aid to other Asian countries. A Japanese Peace Corps is at work. Government ministers are making regular visits abroad. But Japan has far to go.

Here is a country-by-country rundown of Japan's image in the eyes of other Asians:

PHILIPPINES
The Filipino is gradually losing his hatred of his former conquerors. A few pockets of resentment remain.

SINGAPORE
Many here still hate the Japanese. Unwritten immigration laws ban any Japanese involved in the occupation from returning.

The government has urged people to forgive and forget.

INDONESIA
Japan is moving fast to gain a foothold in Indonesia. Particularly interested in developing oil fields, mining and industry, Japan gave Indonesia a $30-million credit this year.

High pressure methods of Japanese, such as bringing 10 or more men into a conference with two Indonesian officials, disturb Indonesians.

MALAYSIA
Japanese advertisements flash in Malaysian cities. Japanese traffic includes businessmen, tourists, Peace Corps volunteers, aid missions and night club performers.

The economic invasion is likened by one merchant to the military invasion of 25 years ago. But this time, he said, "The Japanese are welcome — they offer all the good things in life, carpets to pearls, at a cheaper price."

NATIONALIST CHINA
The shadow of Red China darkens relations between Taipei and Tokyo. President Chiang Kai-shek's regime discounts a Japanese belief that Japanese

Underestimate Missiles the Russians Have

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara says U.S. intelligence experts underestimated the number of ocean-spanning missiles the Soviet Union will have in place by mid-1968.

But he says U.S. estimates of the number of long-range missiles now deployed by the Soviets are "remarkably accurate." He added that the error in assessing Moscow's missile production plans has "no basic impact" on U.S. offensive requirements.

McNamara's disclosures, made Tuesday as he talked with newsmen at President Johnson's Texas office, followed his postelection announcement last month that the Soviets are erecting an antimissile defense around major cities.

The Pentagon chief was in Texas for discussions with the President on future military needs and spending.

While admitting national intelligence estimates on Soviet missile deployment fell on the short side, McNamara took unusual pains to stress the United States can deal a crushing nuclear blow to any attacking enemy.

McNamara made these points:

— The United States still maintains a 3 or 4 to 1 advantage over the Soviet Union in intercontinental ballistic missiles.

— Even if new intelligence

Paul W. Kilpsch appeared before Hope Kiwanis Club Tuesday and addressed the luncheon meeting on the "Dow-Jones Theory".

Using technical terms on a highly technical subject, the speaker "lost" some of his audience as he expounded on the financial barometer and industrial averages, but the meeting ended on a happy note with the introduction of two new members, Jerry Alexander and Richard E. Lively.

estimates for mid-1968 Soviet nuclear strength are correct, the United States will hold a "substantial quantitative and qualitative lead" without taking any actions beyond those already planned and financed this fiscal year.

— Hedging against a possible intelligence error, the United States accelerated development of the submarine-launched Poseidon missile, pushed work on new penetration aids to insure that missiles get through any enemy defense, and decided to deploy the improved, land-based Minuteman III ICBM.

"We now have evidence indicating that we were very wise to plan our intercontinental ballistic missile program on the assumption that the national intelligence estimates for the future beyond mid-1967 might be low," McNamara said.

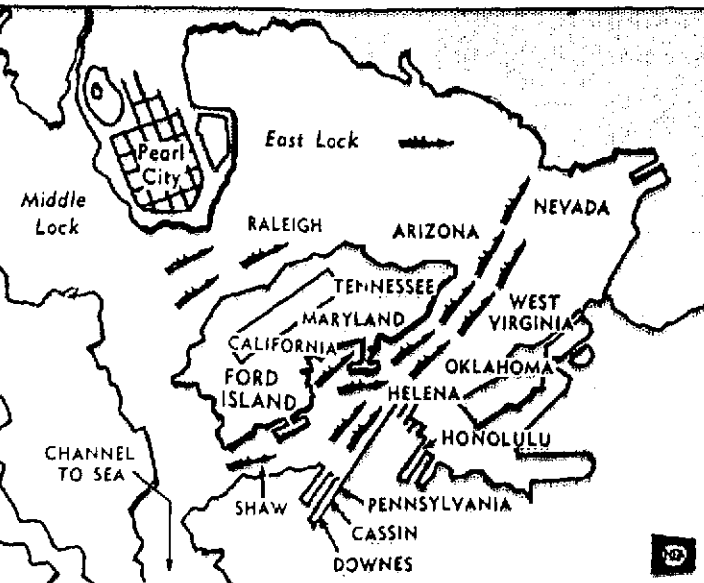

Latest assessments show the Soviets decided to step up the pace of their ICBM program, he said, and "we think they have been doing it for the past year."

DAY OF INFAMY

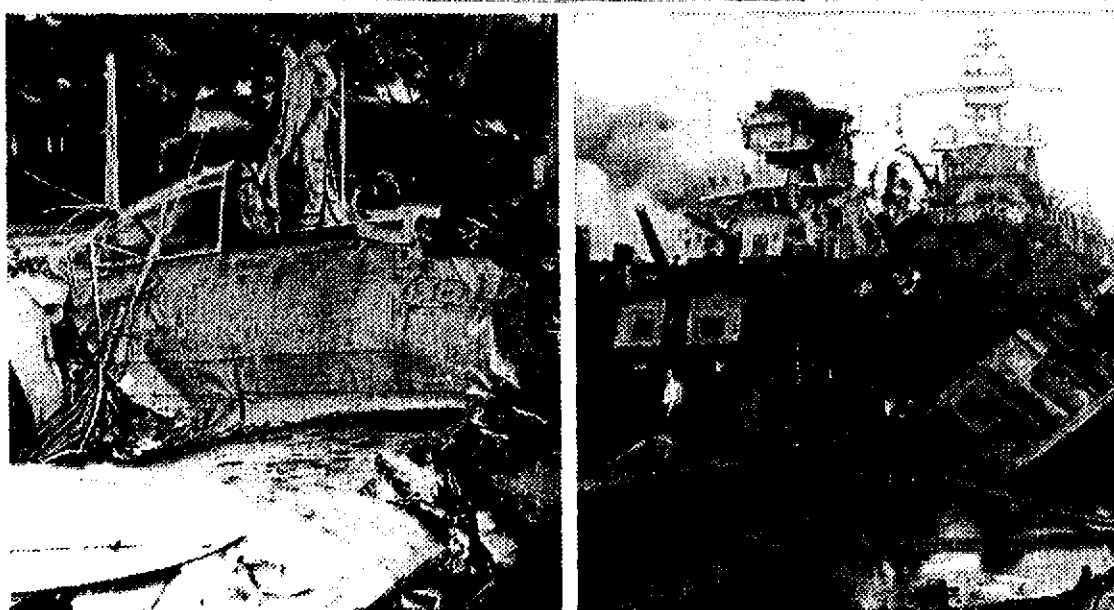

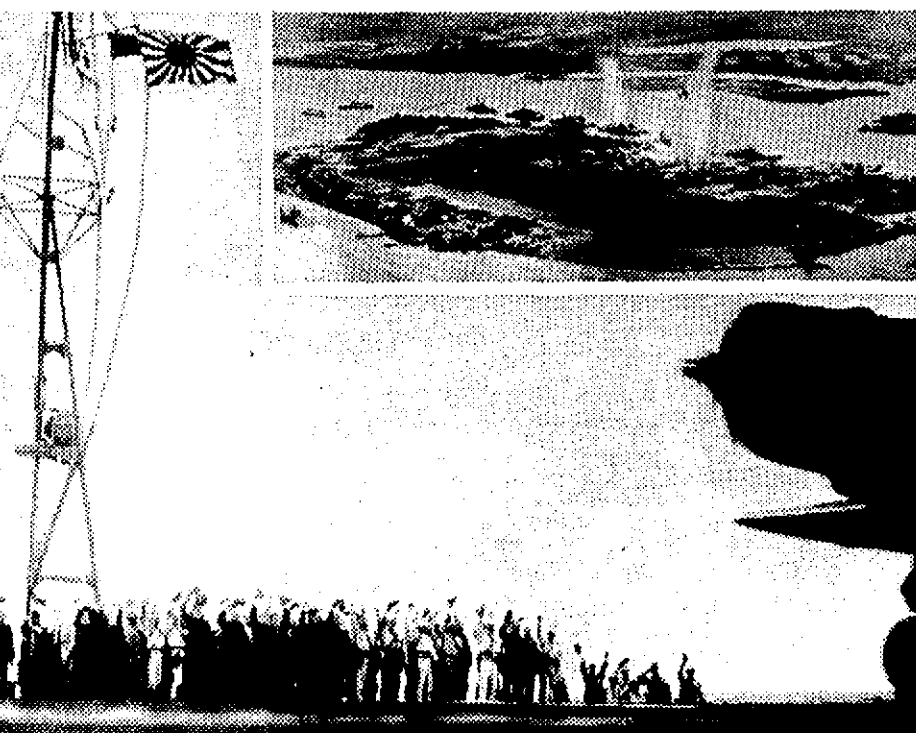

The battleship Arizona settles in flames at Pearl Harbor on Sunday, Dec. 7, 1941. In a captured photograph, right, crewmen cheer the departure of attack planes from a carrier of the Imperial Japanese Navy. Inset shows a Japanese pilot's view of the attack on Ford Island, with American capital ships berthed along battleship row at top.

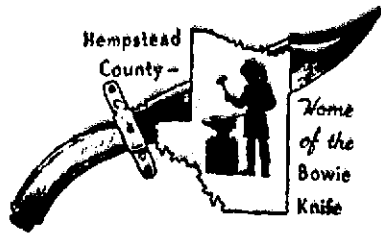

Map shows location at time of attack of the major ships sunk or damaged—the battleships Arizona, Oklahoma, California, Nevada, West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Maryland and Tennessee; cruisers Helena, Honolulu and Raleigh, and destroyers Shaw, Cassin and Downes.

Times have changed. The enemy of a quarter-century ago is now a valued ally. A new generation has grown up for whom the shattering event is almost ancient history. Yet the day President Roosevelt declared would live in infamy still has meaning. No longer vengeance, it is the constant reminder that power carries with it responsibilities and perils, and that the price of liberty is indeed eternal vigilance.

The attackers also suffered losses. The Japanese Zero, left, was one of many downed by antiaircraft fire or in dogfights. But it was a small price for the damage, right, inflicted on American Pacific power: 19 warships sunk or damaged; 247 planes destroyed or damaged; 3,303 American servicemen killed.

Cable TV for Hope Nearing Completion

Palmer Media Group, Camden, Ark., has purchased control of Hope Community TV, Inc., the cable television company now under construction in Hope.

Walter E. Hussman, chief executive officer of Palmer Media Group, said that his organization had bought the interest of Bruce Merrill, Phoenix, Ariz., who was a stockholder in a company which secured a franchise from the city of Hope to build a community television company several months ago. Hussman said construction of the system would be completed with all possible speed.

Construction of a 500-ft. tower is now under way and Hussman said he hoped to finish the installation of the system within a few weeks.

Palmer Media Group already operates, Hussman explained, two nearby community antenna television systems. One was opened recently in Prescott and Palmer Media Group has operated Cam-Tel Company in Camden for almost three years.

Hussman said the people can expect good service from seasoned, competent personnel who have had CATV operating experience in Arkansas.

Hope residents will be able to hook on to the system for only a nominal installation charge and the basic monthly rental for one outlet would be $5.00 per month, he said. Additional outlets in homes may be installed at a low cost, he further explained.

Besides the Community Television Companies in Camden and Prescott, Palmer Media Group operates daily newspapers, television and radio stations and other communication services in Arkansas, Texas, and Louisiana.

Hussman said further details on the progress of the Hope Community Television Company would be announced at frequent intervals to the people of Hope through the news media. He said the people of Hope could rest assured the Palmer Media Group would operate a fine system, one in which Hope citizens could justly take pride.

While final operating plans are not complete, the Hope system is scheduled to carry Channels 4, 11, and 7 from Little Rock; Channel 2, the new educational station with studios located at Conway; Channel 10 from El Dorado; Channels 3, 6 and 12 from Shreveport in addition to a 24 hour closed circuit weather channel. He also indicated that several FM stations would be available on the system.

Additional progress reports will be released on a continuing basis as construction moves to a conclusion, according to the announcement.

SW Electric Gives $50 to HD Council

This makes the twentieth consecutive year Southwestern Electric Power Company has presented a $50.00 contribution to the Hempstead County 4-H Club Council.

Southwestern is please to make this annual contribution to each of the 4-H Club Councils in each county and parish in which the company operates, leaving to the discretion of the Councils how the money will be used.

"We are honored to be associated with the 4-H Clubs, their leaders, and the people of the Extension Service are proud of their efforts," said Bobby G. James, Supervisor of Education and Training. "Their work has always been outstanding and the energy with which they attack problems is indeed inspiring. We sincerely hope that we shall be able to continue making this and other investments in our rural and urban youth. We know that the activity of this group is making a great contribution to the continued growth, progress and freedom of America."

Lonely Man Wanted Money to Be Used for Soul Searching

By BRENT KEETCH
PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — James Kidd was a lonely man. He lived on the border of deprivation.

He spent most of his life in Arizona, working in the rugged copper mining town of Miami. He didn't drink. He was a bachelor who didn't have many friends.

And Kidd was troubled by one of the most deeply rooted metaphysical problems facing man. On the second day of the new year in 1946, he sat down and wrote out his will. Four years later he disappeared and has never been seen again.

His will is like a universal plea for assurance. He wanted his estate to go for "research or some scientific proof of a soul of a human body which leaves at death."

The frugal mine laborer left a legacy of more than $100,000. In the 16 years since his disappearance, the value of his shrewd investments has nearly doubled.

Kidd has been declared legally dead. An 18 day hearing on his will is scheduled for March 6 before Superior Court Judge Robert L. Myers in Phoenix.

Although Kidd said in his will he left no heirs, a number of persons have claimed the legacy as his relatives. Arizona courts, however, have maintained that the will constitutes a legitimate charitable trust.

So far eight religious or educational organizations have filed

Lost Valley, Spring New State Parks

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—About 240 acres of land in two counties have been added to the state park system, Gov. Orval Faubus announced Monday.

The new acquisitions: —About 200 acres of rugged land in a "lost valley" in northwest Newton County, which Faubus said is a natural wilderness that beggars description. The land was turned over to the state Parks and Publicity Commission by Dr. Ed Barron Jr. of Little Rock for the amount that he paid for the property, $23,784.

—About 40 acres of property in Fulton County, which includes a spring that feeds about 200 million gallons of cold water a day into a lake at Mammoth Spring. The state bought the property for $60,000.

William Stearns, associate director of Parks, said the state would begin renovating the spring area for tourists and visitors.

Sneak Raid by Japs 25 Years Ago

PEARL HARBOR, Hawaii (AP) — Survivors of the Japanese sneak attack on Pearl Harbor 25 years ago began gathering today for an anniversary ceremony at the National Memorial Cemetery of the Pacific in Punchbowl Crater.

Secretary of the Navy Paul H. Nitze gives the main memorial address to 900 survivors and their families.

The ceremony was sponsored by the Pearl Harbor Survivors Association, whose members have been touring the islands this week, showing their families what it was like on that Sunday in 1941.

All branches of the military and every veteran's organization were represented at the quarter-century ceremonies.

A less elaborate service was planned for sunset aboard the USS Arizona Memorial, built on the hulk of the battleship that went down under Japanese bombs with the loss of 1,102 lives.

A small delegation of high-ranking military officers, civilians and officials of veterans' organizations were to board the memorial and hear Rear Adm. Henry Persons speak.

The Navy took the occasion to correct a popular misconception that the Arizona has never been decommissioned. It was decommissioned Dec. 29, 1941, and was stricken from the list of Navy battleships one year later.

The Navy said the Arizona now is in the same category as a national cemetery.

Dime Store Heir Is Found Dead

NEW YORK (AP) — James (Jimmy) Donahue, grandson of the late dime store magnate Frank W. Woolworth, was found dead Tuesday in the apartment of his mother on swank Fifth Avenue. Police said he died of natural causes.

Police said Donahue, 53, was found lying in bed by his mother, Mrs. James P. Donahue, a doctor from the Lenox Hill Hospital pronounced him dead. Police said his body has been released to the family.

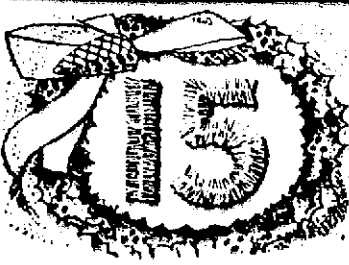

Donahue was a cousin of another Woolworth heir, Barbara Hutton. He maintained a mansion on a 100-acre estate off Cedar Swamp Road in Old Brookville, Long Island.

Donahue, long a patron of the arts, gave $100,000 in 1960 for the new Metropolitan Opera House in Lincoln Center. He was a former president of the New York Foundling Hospital.

In October 1964, while he was on an extended holiday in Greece, thieves broke into his Long Island mansion and carted off $100,000 in antique art treasures.

The 100-acre estate was purchased in 1956 for a reported $400,000 from Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt.

$10 Billion Extra for War Is Seen

By FRANK CORMIER

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson estimates Viet Nam war costs between now and next June 30 will exceed earlier budget projections by $9 billion to $10 billion.

He plans to ask Congress next month for a supplemental appropriation to bridge the gap, he told a news conference Tuesday in his federal building office suite.

The President remained mum about the possibility of a 1967 tax increase, but said facts needed to make a decision are falling into place.

Although Johnson had predicted earlier that war outlays would top the budget figures by anywhere from $5 billion to $15 billion, the figures he cited at the news conference were perhaps a bit lower than many observers had expected.

Since the chief executive had long been citing the forthcoming Viet Nam money request as a major item to be pinned down before a tax decision, he was asked if the new estimate — as well as a recent federal forecast that business spending on plant expansion would slow down — would help him make such a decision.

"The answer is yes," Johnson replied. "It gives me help. If you are trying to find out if a decision has been made, it has not been."

Johnson went on to say, in response to another inquiry, that he would not speculate whether the new Viet Nam cost estimate plus results of the business investment survey would make a tax hike more or less likely.

"People might get the wrong impression," he asserted.

Although Treasury and Budget Bureau officials earlier had recommended announcement of a tax decision by about Dec. 10, the chief executive gave no indication he'll tip his hand that soon.

Actually, the question has been up in the air for nearly 10 months.

The new money request for Viet Nam will boost the defense budget to between $67 billion and $68 billion for the 1967 fiscal year that began July 1. That compares with a budget estimate last January of $58.5 billion.

How much of the defense total is being spent on the war, no one will say.

Johnson made his announcement after devoting much of the day to conferences with Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

S. Viet Nam Political Figure Killed

By ROBERT TUCKMAN

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Two gunmen shot and killed a leading South Vietnamese politician today, an assassination that could trigger political repercussions in Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's government.

The gunmen, firing at close range from a motorcycle, killed Tran Van Van, 58, as he rode in his car to his office. One of the assassins was captured.

Van, a wealthy, Paris-educated landowner long prominent in Vietnamese politics, was a leading member of the Constituent Assembly which is writing a constitution for South Viet Nam.

His slaying a few blocks from Premier Ky's office overshadowed war developments. Only minor ground actions were reported from the fighting fronts although U.S. bombers kept up their raids over North Viet Nam. U.S. destroyers shelled supply barges just off the North Vietnamese coast.

U.S. officials reported the discovery of two 62-pound satchel charges in an ammunition dump at Saigon's Tan Son Nhut Airport, which was attacked by a Viet Cong suicide force last weekend. The explosive charges were disarmed by demolition experts.

Major Draft Overhaul to Be Suggested

CHICAGO (AP) — A national draft conference is expected to call today for a major overhaul of the nation's Selective Service System — with the emphasis on limiting the authority of local draft boards.

The consensus seemingly emerged after more than four days of wrangling debate on the draft and its alternatives. The conferees made it clear that they agreed, along with Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, that the present draft laws are a haze of inequities.

The Massachusetts Democrat told a news conference Tuesday night that revision of the draft will emerge as "one of the most important and significant issues Congress will address itself to in the next few months."

"There is a concern around the country about the draft," Kennedy added. "It is in the forefront in the minds of our young people."

He predicted Congress would act because the present Selective Service laws are not always fair, lack flexibility and have no degree of predictability.

To rectify this, Kennedy suggested that national standards be set up for the nation's more than 4,000 draft boards, making it impossible for one board to reject commercial pilots and another to classify them 1A, an example of inequities that have been reported.

The senator, a leading exponent of a lottery draft system, arrived in Chicago to attend the closing sessions of the conference.

More than 100 scholars, government specialists and students have convened to discuss the draft — which has been a focus of rising concern since the United States began increasing its involvement in Viet Nam in 1964. About 600,000 men have been drafted in the past two years.

Despite the massive opinion that a new look is needed in the Selective Service System, the conferees have been unable to agree on very little else.

What other recommendations will emerge at today's closing session along with the proposed centralization of draft board control is not clear.

The conferees listened Tuesday to at least four proposals for national service, including anthropologist Margaret Mead's suggestion that everybody — women, too — be asked to perform some national duty.

Her proposal was bluntly criticized by other delegates, some of whom described it as just another form of coercion because young men would be faced either with the draft or with compulsory national service.
